Public to Private Career Transition Considerations

Alan A. Malinchak, 163rd Session, FBI (retired), CEO Eclat Transitions, LLC

This session will focus on issues people face in a career transition as they prepare to navigate private market career opportunities. Transitional issues will be discussed related to retirement drivers, financial considerations, professional reinvention, emotional factors and the requisite transferable knowledge, skills and abilities required to venture into private industry. Additionally, a particular focus will be made regarding resumes, networking, interviewing and negotiating salary and benefits.

Transitioning to the RIGHT Career

TJ Gilroy, former US Marine Corps officer, author of The Holy Hand Grenade and founder of The Right Career by TMG Associates

When you transition from law enforcement do you want a job, a career, or the RIGHT career? The Right career requires that you know: What you really want, Your gift - your greatest talent and Who you really are. These are the attributes that will set you apart and describe what you have to offer. Armed with that knowledge and some training on dress, verbiage and interviewing techniques you will be in the driver's seat in finding your right career. This presentation touches on all these subjects and more. It is a departure from traditional job hunting and career placement firms which only focus on applying for jobs that are "available".

Additionally, TJ Gilroy has a LALE Kit available for purchase that includes: The Holy Hand Grenade Book, DISC Personality Profile, StrengthsFinder 2.0 Profile, StrengthsFinder 2.0 e-book, and Complimentary Coaching Session at LALE.
